Good jobs are critical to OP's quality of life. They contribute to the family structure, economic tax base, and our ability to grow in a meaningful and positive way.

Our low crime rate attests to the quality of our police protection. Our fire department is nationally accredited. Our streets are well maintained. Our credit rating is AAA. We have our budget under control, and our reserves are increasing.

OP has a successful blend of residential, commercial, office and green space. This contributes to our high tax base, low mill levy, and high quality of life which we enjoy. Some developments deserve well thought-out incentives to reduce the threat of blight and create opportunities.
